Description

A beautiful tree decoration with a feel good factor, ALL proceeds of sales are going to Pericles charity. Each tree is hand crafted and unique. They are available in two sizes.

Pericles charity is made up of 3 elements a theatre group, a cafe where baked goods are made and sold and a workshop where these beautiful trees were made by hand by students. Pericles is a pioneering and original training-and-work project for young people and adults with special learning needs and/or mental health problems. The project offers practical and artistic activities within small groups that are introduced according to both need and capability, complemented by specialist therapeutic activities. The approach to individual development, training and work at Pericles has been developed out of the work of Rudolf Steiner and John Ruskin, placing a strong emphasis on ecological ways of working with the Earth's resources and an holistic view of development.
